-Mr. Ryan Elected as His Sucessor-A Very Busy Day.

Nearly all the morning hour of the nate was taken up in discussing the ouse substitute for the Senate bill husband and wife competent witsees for or against each other. The mate bill only applied to civil cases. The substitute extended the provisions to criminal cases. Messrs. Jones, Morris, hay, and Walton spoke in favor of the substitute, and Mesars, Berry, Echois, and Little against it.

The substitute was adopted.
On motion of Mr. Stubbs the Maryland nmittee were invited to scats on the floor, and the chair was vacated for five students, and that the practical effect was to give this $5,000 for the benefit of about a dozen Richmend physicians.

Mr. Barnes asked the name of the author of the letter.

Mr. Mushbach said he did know that he was at liberty to give it, but finally did so, naming Dr. Hunter McGuire.

Mr. Flood advocated the amendment and Mr. Stubbs fought for it.

Mr. Lovenstein said the proposed appropriation was to take care of the State's property. Mr. Hurt supported the smendment.

The amendment was rejected—aves, 15; The amendment was rejected—ayes, 15; noes, 21.

REVEALED THE HIDDEN HAND. REVEALED THE HIDDEN HAND.

Mr. Hurt moved to amend by providing that four fifths of the amount be expended in boarding indigent persons, and asked the Senator from Nansemonde if he would accept it.

Mr. Barnes: "No sir; that still further reveals the hidden hand."

Mr. Hurt: "What does the Senator mean by the hidden hand?"

Mr. Earnes: "Oh, you know."

Mr. Hurt: "I have given the Senator a chance to explain. If he means to offer me an indignity, I hurl it back upon his brow with all the scorn I can command."

terance that gave him more genuine easure, for he loved the Senator from ansemand. He wan deeply grieved that een a temporary misunderstanding had appropriation bill, with a few THE CLERK'S OFFICE.

Mr. Sands introduced a passage of a bill to p removal of the several Capitol and the books, from the Library to the to provide suitable furni tional offices therefor.

SENATE BILLS PASSED.

SPEAKER CARDWELL RESIGNS.

As soon as this bill was disposed of Mr. Cardwell vacated the chair, calling thereto Mr. Nicol. The Speaker then in a graceful speech, in which had been conferred upon him by the General Assembly in elevating him to the Supreme-Court bench, tendered his resignation as Speaker of the House of Delegates of Virginia.

Mr. Harwood moved that the resignation be accepted. Mr. Saunders opposed the acceptance of the resignation, and referred in complimentary terms to the impartial and satisfactory conduct of the office by Mr. Cardwell.

At this juncture Colonel John Bell Bigger entered the House, followed by two pages bearing on a silver salver a handsome silver service, which was placed on the Clerk's desk. He called upon Mr. Downing to present this to Mr. Cardwell on behalf of the members of the House of Delegates.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

At 12:45 the Senate took up the General appropriation bill.

When the item appropriating $5.000 to the Medical College of Virginia (an introduced of France of the Medical College of Virginia (an increase of $2,000) was read, Mr. Hay moved to amend by reducing the amount to $3,000.

Mr. Barnes (T. H.) objected. He said the college was State property; that the professora had lately equipped in connection with it a spiendid hospital, and were taking care of the indigent sick.

Mr. Mushbach supported the amendment. He said he had a letter from one treasured the Speaker as one of nature's noblemen. Colonel Bigger here arose and after asking pardon for his presumption, altered in most feeling terms to his intimate relations with Judge Cardwell, saying that he had selewhere, and that he had always found that his big brain and big heart had been as conspicuous as the gigantic proportions of his well-developed form. The Colonel Bigger than a brother."

Mr. Mushbach supported the amendment. He said he had a letter from one of the most eminent physicians in the country, saying that there was no provision in the bill for the treatment of indigent sick, or the education of poor students, and that the practical effect was to give this $5,000 for the benefit of about a dozen Richmond physicians.

Mr. Harnes asked the name of the author of the letter.

Mr. Mushbach said he did know that he was at liberty to give it, but finally did so, naming Dr. Hunter McGuire.

Mr. Flood advocated the amendment and Mr. Stubbs fought for it.

Mr. Lovenstein said the proposed appropriation was to take care of the Stafe's property. Mr. Hurt supported the Stafe's property. Mr. Hurt supported the Stafe's property. Mr. Hurt supported the Speaker as one characterizing the retiring Speaker as one of nature's noblemen. ACCEPTANCE AND ELECTION

The question recurring on the acceptance of the Speaker's resignation, Messrs, Saunders, Downing, and Gibson opposed so doing. In his speech Mr. Downing said he was not now a candidate for Speaker, though he might be at a future session of the House. Messrs, Withrow and Edmondson advocated the acceptance of the resignation, and Mr. Diggs, on behalf of the people of Hanover, whom he with Mr. Cardwell represents, returned thanks to all of those who had spoken for their kind tributes to the honored son of that historic county.

Mr. Saunders's motion not to accept was lost by a vote of 3 ayes to 40 noes, and the resignation was accepted.

Mr. Nicol then retirring Speaker, which was unanimously adopted.

The Clerk announced that nominations were in order for a successor to Mr. Cardwell, and Mr. Logan placed in nomination Mr. John F. Ryan, of Loudoun. Mr. Nicol seconded the nomination, and on motion of Mr. Saunders Mr. Ryan was elected by acclamation.

The Clerk appointed Messrs Logan, Nicol, Harwood, and Saunders a commute to escort the new Speaker to the chair. They retired to the rotunda, and shortly after returned and conducted Mr. Ryan to the chair, amid loud and continued applause. The Manassas Billed Passed.

When the House reconvened, at 4:30 o'clock, the Euford election bill was called up, and Mr. Boykin's motion to pass by was voted on, and carried.

Mr. Fyrne called up the bill to incorporate the Manassas and Richmond Railroad company, and Mr. Crump made a strong argument in its favor. He was sure the road would be built, or the corporators would never have accepted a charter containing such remarkable provisions.

BILLS PASSED.

House bills: To amend and re-enact certain sections of an act to incorporate the town of Pulaski.

The fertilizer bill was taken up, and various amendments thereto were considered. The chair was vacated at 6:30 o'clock, while the measure was still pending.

Mr. Echois, for himself and others, offered an amendment exempting a number of counties.

Mr. Jackson (Populist) moved to exempt the counties of his district.

Mr. Mushbach said he thought this ought to be a separate amendment.

MR. WALTON SURPRISED.

Mr. Walton expressed surprise that the Senator from Sussex should ask that his district should be exempted, when his party had clamored for such a law.

Mr. Jackson reolied that of the two crills he would take the less.

Mr. Flood spoke at some length in advocacy of the bill. He said its object was to purify the ballot and do away with the evil of purchasing votes that had crept into the politics of the State.

Mr. Flood yielded the floor for the reading of the joint resolution of the House appointing a committee to take into consideration the Governor's special message relative to the visit of the Maryland committee, etc.
